HENDRICKS COUNTY AIRPORT
GORDON GRAHAM FIELD

Sixth annual Hendricks County Airport open house is set for Saturday, July 17 at 10 a.m.

DANVILLE—Looking for a fun activity next weekend? Bring the whole family or gather a group of friends and head to Gordon Graham Field at the Hendricks County Airport for a free open house Saturday July 17.

The event, which runs from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will be held rain or shine, includes a display of new Cessnas and experimental aircraft. Attendees can meet and talk with pilots, tour a general aviation airport, and learn more about flight training opportunities.

The open house is sponsored by Hendricks County Aviation, which operates Indiana's newest Cessna Pilot Center. The center offers both flight training and aircraft rentals using a 2005 Cessna 172 featuring the Garmin G1000 glass panel, which is the safest, most modern training aircraft on the market today.

For those who want to experience the thrill of flying, "discovery flights" will be available for a special $90 rate. Attendees may also register for free flights and need not be present to win. Hot dogs and soft drinks will be provided.

Looking for a unique, memorable gift or way to celebrate a special occasion? Hendricks County Aviation also offers flight gift certificates.

Hendricks County Airport—Gordon Graham Field is located at 2749 Gordon Graham Blvd., just south of U.S. 36 between Avon and Danville on County Road 300 East.

Contact Gary Vollen or Gary Hood, representatives of Hendricks County Aviation, at 317.745.4422 for more information. Visit www.flyhca.com for more information about the flight school, aircraft rental, and more.
